Grünewald Guild Community Covenant

The Guild community practices radical hospitality. We welcome all people as honored guests into our collective home, extending a spirit of genuine kindness, warmth, and acceptance.

The Guild community practices positivity & presence. We believe that “comparison is the thief of joy.” We focus on the present moment and present company, curious to discover the unique gifts this experience has to offer. When differences or challenges arise, we are intentional about resolving them respectfully.

The Guild Community practices openness & engagement. We are deliberate about getting to know the people who enter our community. We encourage one another and share our knowledge, faith practices, experiences, questions, and doubts. We actively attend and participate in community events such as meals, worship services, and social times.

The Guild community practices mindful stewardship. We view the Guild’s environment, facilities, and equipment as resources to be appreciated and generously shared. We are mindful of how we interact with one another as we go about chores, make use of shared spaces, and engage in work and play. We communicate when our activities may affect another person’s space, tools, or time.

The Guild community practices respect for our neighbors. Throughout our local community, we act as representatives of the Guild, and we are mindful of how our actions reflect on the Guild community. We show respect for our neighbors’ beliefs, practices, and property lines.
